The State of Mental Healthcare in the United States

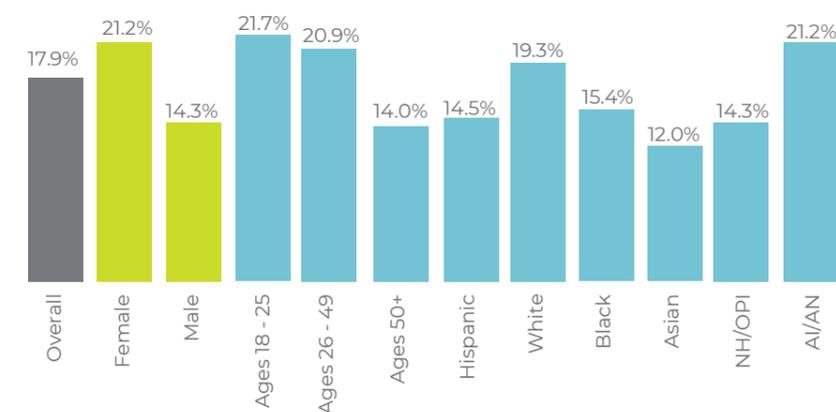

The United States is in the midst of a major psychiatric crisis. We now average 129 suicides per day, with many of the victims being veterans who take their lives in VA parking lots. Globally, the United States ranks almost last in the number of mental health providers per capita and struggles to meet the growing demand as behavioral health visits increase at a rate of 9% per year.

Emergency rooms are inundated with patients who need psychiatric care and have nowhere else to go. One in eight emergency room visits is related to a mental health crisis. Often, people seek emergency help when transitioning out of an inpatient facility, during a psychotic episode, or simply when they have to wait one to three months before a psychiatrist can offer a medication refill.

Furthermore, current treatment modalities are myopic and do not consider the source of the illness. They are designed to mask symptoms and manage side-effects, keeping patients stuck in the system while losing any chance of true healing.

Statistics speak for themselves.

We believe in integrated holistic psychiatry.

We know that the mental health of any person depends on the health of their physical body, their thought patterns, and their emotional intelligence and mastery.

These systems are interdependent and one cannot function properly while the others are in a state of disease.

Our integrative approach to medicine addresses the mind, body, and spirit to help our patients break cycles of imbalances quickly.

We employ a variety of therapeutic interventions such as medications, lifestyle management techniques, ketamine therapy, transcranial magnetic stimulation, nutritional counseling, and talk therapy to address the whole person.

WE ARE A NETWORK OF FULL-SERVICE MENTAL HEALTH CLINICS

Alleviant Health Centers is a network of full-service mental health clinics, treating mood disorders and pain conditions by integrating traditional therapies and innovative, holistic modalities. With the rise in concierge medicine and the shortage of mental health professionals, Alleviant Health Centers is perfectly poised to make an impact in the market for people seeking to reduce medication use, take control of their lives, and employ holistic treatment options.

Through our interdisciplinary approach, we merge anesthesia and psychiatry, combining expertise in both fields. In this way, we achieve rapid healing for our patients and relief from the effects of previously-employed medications.

We are dedicated to shifting the focus of mental healthcare in the United States from medication-dependent care to a holistic integrated approach, addressing the whole person.

HOW WE HELP

We help our patients with mood disorders and chronic pain via comprehensive psychiatric care, ketamine therapy, and transcranial magnetic stimulation.

Comprehensive Psychiatric Care

We provide comprehensive psychiatric care including psychiatric evaluations, counseling, and medication management. We're committed to helping every patient maintain an individualized treatment regimen for their particular diagnosis. Our team of supportive psychiatric professionals and counselors enjoy walking alongside our patients during their healing journey.

Ketamine Therapy

Ketamine Infusions are an effective treatment for chronic pain and mood disorders. Approximately 70% of patients may experience a significant reduction in symptoms – many during the first infusion. Ketamine infusion therapy requires multiple infusions over a short period of time. Infusions range from one to several hours, depending on the diagnosis. A medical professional administers the infusion through an IV and monitors the patient during the entire infusion.

Ketamine & Mood Disorders

Ketamine alleviates mood disorders by increasing synaptogenesis and neuroplasticity, decreasing inflammation, and regulating glutamate by blocking NMDA receptors. Once Ketamine has kick-started the healing process in the central nervous system, patients are able to achieve rapid progress in processing emotional trauma with talk therapy.

Ketamine & Pain Conditions

Ketamine works in the nervous system to help break cycles of chronic pain caused by nerve damage and faulty communication. Ketamine also has potent anti-inflammatory properties and increases circulation in the body, reducing joint pain brought on by swelling.

Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation (TMS)

TMS is a non-invasive procedure for treatment-resistant depression. It delivers magnetic impulses through an electromagnetic coil to the prefrontal cortex, the region of the brain associated with mood control. TMS helps nerves begin to communicate again and reinforces positive nerve pathways. Therapy takes place five days a week for four to six weeks. Each treatment lasts less than 4 minutes. TMS is FDA-approved for treatment-resistant depression.

“This is the first pain-free, medication-free day I’ve had in five years”

- Will H. | Alleviant Health Centers Patient

“The treatments have exceeded my highest expectations! I have not experienced any migraines since my treatments. I also have had almost no fibromyalgia pain, and I’ve been able to relax without feeling anxious or depressed about missing out on family time due to having to stay behind during family activities. I can honestly say I feel better than I have in a long, long time. This has been a miraculous improvement, and I intend to recommend it to others!”

Melissa S.

Migraines, Fibromyalgia, Depression, Anxiety

“I am so thankful that I received the Ketamine infusions. It has completely changed my life. I was suffering from severe anxiety and depression, and now my anxiety is just gone. Such an amazing and compassionate staff that took excellent care of me each time.”

Kinley B.

Depression, Anxiety

“After I finished the six treatments I went to see my psychologist. He didn’t even recognize me. He and my psychiatrist cut down my visits in half. I’ve been motivated to get out and look for a job.”

Mary T.

Suicidal Ideations, Depression

“I went from crushing depression, crippling anxiety, not wanting to leave the house, not wanting to eat, not having any satisfaction in life, to having some therapy, and getting a little better. But after the ketamine - waking up feeling like a young person again, like being in one of those smarmy mattress commercials. I always thought, ‘Who in the world wakes up smiling like that?’ Well, me! I do! I wake up smiling like that.”

David R.

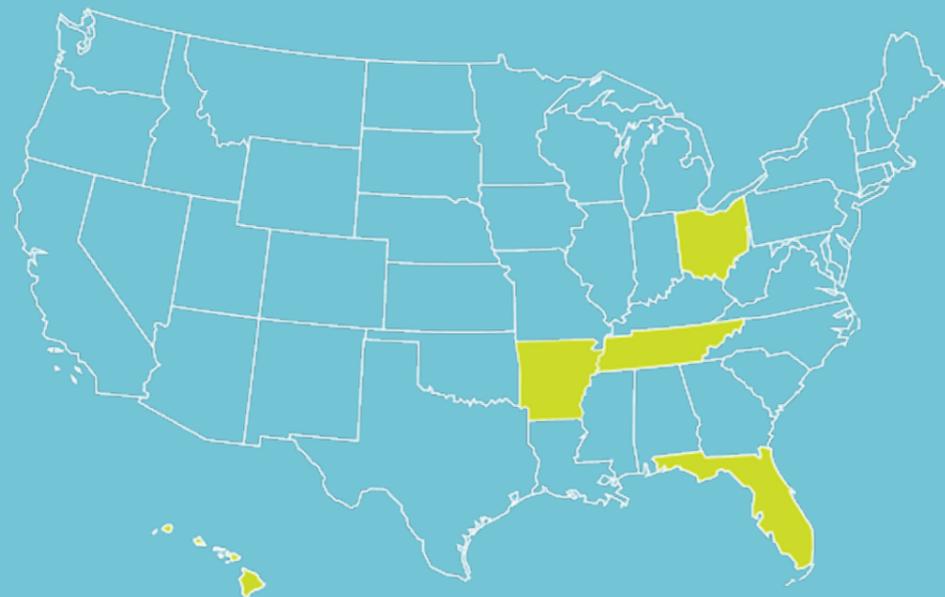

Depression, Anxiety, Fibromyalgia, Migraine Headaches

“You don’t have to live with this struggle any longer.”

CASE STUDY: LITTLE ROCK, AR

Little Rock, AR

Little Rock is home to the flagship clinic of Alleivant Health Centers, founded in 2017 by Brian Mears, CRNA, and Michael Reding, MD.

We started out as a simple “ketamine clinic” and quickly evolved to meet the growing needs of our patients. As we treated more and more people with chronic pain and mood disorders, we realized that we needed to revolutionize and expand our services to treat the whole person: body, mind, and spirit. We are committed to finding and healing the root cause of disease, instead of masking symptoms. The lessons we learn in Little Rock teach us how to best reproduce our model throughout the country. Our interdisciplinary team of doctors, nurses, therapists, and administrative staff collaborate to integrate care for each patient.
